

Chief Medical Officer

Ref: PSL4109
Belgium

Attractive Salary
Commensurate with experience

Are you passionate about advancing Oncology clinical development?

This is a career defining opportunity where you will play a key role in the vision and strategy of a dynamic Biotechnology Company bringing novel immunotherapy drugs into development to benefit cancer patients.

Our client has enjoyed unprecedented success with the exciting prospect of taking 3 unique molecules into clinical development in the next 15 months.

Established as a spin off from 2 globally recognised leading cancer institutes with outstanding reputations for scientific innovation in 2012, our client is focused on targeting the tumour environment to enhance the effectiveness of the immune system at eradicating cancer.

We are seeking an experienced Chief Medical Officer capable of providing leadership, direction, vision and with the aptitude to drive operational execution and excellence as their lead products enter clinical development.

You will possess a “hands-on” approach and a positive, can-do attitude, able to lead and inspire others, being decisive whilst incorporating wider thoughts and opinions. You will bring outstanding experience:

- Directing clinical development strategies and plans
- Identifying key therapeutic indications
- Developing and writing clinical protocols and investigator brochures
- Selecting and managing relationships with Key Opinion Leaders and investigators
- Managing relationships with CROs to ensure trials of the highest possible standards

The Chief Medical Officer will be a key member of the Executive Team with responsibility for the strategy, direction and execution of the company's clinical development plans.

The Chief Medical Officer will require outstanding internal and external communication skills, leadership and an inclusive pro-active approach, working closely with the other scientific experts within the business to provide immuno-oncology and clinical development expertise within:

- Scientific Affairs
- Medical Affairs
- Patient Access and Retention
- Safety & Risk Management

This is a unique opportunity to take a key leadership role and be a significant contributor to the success of a well-positioned, well-financed growth stage Biotechnology Company with an exciting future and considerable capability of delivering significant change to patients' lives.
